

Higher order theory: Consciousness is a mental state of being aware that one is in that same mental state.

