

Say there's a pill that would make you immune to sleep. (You never need to do it, but your average energy level is the same as it is now. Your lifespan is unaffected.) How much would you pay for this pill?

